I am a truck driver. when I need information on a certain city I am no where near that city at the time I need that Information. By the time I would get within signal range of any particular radio station near that city it would be too late then to avoid local traffic and weather conditions that may be a hazzard to me and my load. XM radio provides truck dirvers with a service that local stations can't match. To limit XM from providing these services is putting the public at risk, however so slight or great. XM's services are now essential to our society.
